Dear Families,

It's the end of another busy week of learning. I hope you have all enjoyed the Viking themed week. We have certainly enjoyed seeing all your work and been impressed by the many new skills you have been developing.

You may have read this week about the plan for P1-3 to return to school. I will keep you up to date with any information I learn about this.

Brilliant Viking shields from Oliver B, Maisie and Seb.

They are all ready for battle!

Successful Learners

We have been working hard and been enthusiastic in our learning during our Viking themed week.

Mr Scrase has been overwhelmed by how engaged you have been. It's great to see lots of new skills being developed during this project.

Confident Individuals

Laurianne, Tristan, Seb and Zac enjoyed making Viking bread.

Our Viking Themed
Week At Glenlivet
Primary

We have continued learning about Scotland's past this week. Some of the activities included writing Viking runes, learning about Up Helly Aa, building Viking longboats, bread making and making swords and shields.

Through our reflective sheets, we are recognising our strengths and next steps.

It is great to see so many of you join the check ins and virtual playtimes. It supports the health and wellbeing of everyone in our school to have the chance to see our friends and say hello.

Mrs Gillies Music Maestros

Usually our primary 5 children would have weekly recorder lessons with Mrs Gillies. During the remote learning period, Mrs Gillies is offering instructions or exercises to aide the learning of a new tune each week via TEAMS. This opportunity is open to children in P4 to P7. You can join Mrs Gillies TEAM using the code n8pl3ie. For children in P4 to P7, who have not already been given a recorder from Mrs Gillies (most P6 and P7 would have received a recorder in P5), I can order a recorder for you if you are taking part in Mrs Gillies sessions. Please let me know if you are interested.

- Mrs Gillies' -
YMI Music Maestros

Each week a new tune (or part of a tune for more difficult tunes) will be uploaded for both recorder and ukulele. This will include any instructions or exercises to aide the learning of the new piece. A worksheet will be available each week including a variety of music related activities such as a music wordsearch, listening to a piece of music and answering questions, mindful colouring in, music sudoku, music maths.
